

JOHN W. YANG
CURRICULUM VITAE

Professional:

Clinical Instructor, Ophthalmology, Feinberg School of Medicine, Northwestern University, Chicago, IL

Education and Post-Graduate Training:

University Eye Specialists, Chicago, IL, Fellowship in Glaucoma, (2000-2001)

Feinberg School of Medicine, Northwestern University, Chicago, IL, Residency in Ophthalmology, (1997-2000) (Chief Resident 7/99 – 10/99)

University of Illinois at Chicago Medical Center, Chicago, IL, Medical Intern, (1996- 1997)

Feinberg School of Medicine, Northwestern University, Honors Program in Medical Education, Chicago, IL, Doctor of Medicine, (1992- 1996)

Northwestern University, Evanston, IL, Bachelor of Arts, (1989- 1992)

Teaching Administration:

Fellowship Training, Glaucoma, University Eye Specialists

Residency Training, Ophthalmology, Feinberg School of Medicine, Northwestern University, Chicago, IL

Publications:

“The Low-Pressure Glaucoma Treatment Study (LoGTS) Study Design and Baseline Characteristics of Enrolled Patients.” Ophthalmology. Vol. 112/Number 3, pp. 376-385. November 2005.

“The Unioocular Trial Myth- Discussion.” Glaucoma Today. Vol. 2/Number 5, pp. 18-20. 2004.

“The value of the “Visual Potential Challenge”, a personal computer-based perimetry machine, as a screening tool for early glaucomatous damage. Co-investigators: Theodore Krupin, MD; Gerald Horn, MD. 2001

“Pigmentary Glaucoma.” Journal of Glaucoma. Vol. 10/Number 5/Supplement 1, pp. 30-32. John W. Yang MD, Darin Sakiyalak MD, Theodore Krupin MD. August 2001.

“Principles and Basic Techniques for Ocular Microsurgery.” Duane’s Clinical Ophthalmology. Vol. 6, pp. 1-25. Marian S. Macsai MD, Allison A. Jensen MD, John W. Yang MD. 2001.